

EVELYN NESBIT THAW ATTEMPTS DEATH BY POISON PROMISE NEW RUM INDICTMENTS

DANCER DEPRESSED MAID TELLS POLICE AS WOMAN RECOVERS

Suicide Effort Comes As Climax to Party In Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, dancer and divorced wife of Harry K. Thaw, swallowed poison here today while in a state of depression but will recover, Dr. E. Thomas Brand announced after a vigorous application of the stomach pump and other first aid action.

Evelyn, who has been here two weeks, took eight ounces of lysol as the climax to a lengthy "party" according to Miss Gusse Accocoe, Evelyn's personal maid. Gusse told Dr. Brand that Evelyn this morning had demanded some beer.

"A little later I found her on the floor, screaming she had taken poison," Gusse told Dr. Brand.

Russell, 17-year-old son of the dancer, accompanied his mother to the hospital. Police questioned him for a motive for the suicide attempt, but Russell could throw little light on the matter. He said he believed his mother was depressed.

Gusse said that depression caused the suicide attempt.

Gusse also said that Evelyn disappeared New Year's eve and did not show up until Monday. Evelyn's nose was broken and the only explanation she gave was that she had attended a house party. Gusse said.

SAY RENUNCIATION OF THRONE FORGERY

Milan, Jan. 5.—The mystery surrounding the renunciation of Rumanian throne rights by Crown Prince Carol grew deeper today when Carol's entourage informed the United Press that Carol himself was ignorant of the letter of abdication written to Bucharest and signed allegedly with Carol's name.

This revelation came only after the Bucharest House and Senate had accepted the renunciation and also accepted the law naming Carol's son Prince Mihai (Michael) as heir presumptive and providing for a renunciation in event of King Ferdinand's death.

The United Press informant said the letter of renunciation was written in Rumania while Carol was in Italy. Carol's intimates are insistent that the letter was a forgery to further the political ambitions of Rumanian statesmen.

PHONE BOOK GIVES CLUE TO DESERTER

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Seventeen years ago Martin Stieler, deserted his wife Kathryn in Summerville, N. J., Mrs. Stieler says. She was left with four children to provide for.

Mrs. Allen invited her to stop off in Chicago and spend a few days visiting following her return from the funeral.

Then Mrs. Stieler did. Yesterday while looking through the telephone book, she happened to see the name Martin Stieler. She investigated and says she found the man who deserted her.

Now Stieler is under arrest for desertion.

Product Of New York's East Side Marries Heiress; Berlin and Bride on Honeymoon

New York, Jan. 5.—In one of the Presidential suites of the liner Leviathan, Irving Berlin will take his bride, the former Ellin Mackay, to Europe.

Berlin will sail luxuriously and in company with one of the nation's wealthiest heiresses to a country from which he came in poverty.

It is a stretch of imagination to see in the successful song writer and publisher whose annual income is estimated at $500,000, the one-time "Izzy" Baline, youngest of a Jewish Rabbi's eight children.

The wealth that is Berlin's came from the grimy pavements of New York's East Side in contrast to the fortune which some day may be his wife's for John W. MacKay, the bride's grand father found his bonanza with the "Forty-niners" in the West. Her father, Clarence Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company has added many times to the original estate and has taken a high place in society and finance.

Berlin and Miss Mackay were married yesterday—without parental consent. The wedding was arranged by telephone, office associates of the composer served as witnesses and a city clerk officiated. The tempo of the marriage was typical of the strange translation of the noise and tumult of the largest city which Berlin has made in his melodies.

Clarence Mackay was stunned at the news of the marriage. Although rumors that his daughter might wed the song writer had been current Mackay had always insisted that they were without basis in fact. Curtly he issued a statement in which he said the ceremony was without his "knowledge or approval."

The bride's mother now Mrs. Joseph A. Blake, declined to comment, but it is believed that she regarded the match with more favor than did her former husband from whom she was divorced many years ago.

The Berlins, radiantly happy, met newspaper men outside the home but would not speak definitely of their plans. It was reported that Mrs. Berlin, a Catholic, would ask that her husband agree to a religious ceremony before they sail on the Leviathan.

SAY LOUD SPEAKER NUISANCE AT NIGHT

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 5.—The city commission has passed an anti-noise measure.

The measure provides that the noise must disturb the peace of adjacent occupants of inhabitants, however.

STRIKE SITUATION STILL UNCHANGED

New York, Jan. 5.—"I see no change in the situation" was the statement of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America when he came to his headquarters in New York today for resumption of negotiations to end the strike of anthracite coal miners.

SOLONS COMMITTEE DECLARES SPECIAL MEET IS FOR RELIEF

—Promise No Further Action Will Be Taken By Assembly

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—Members of the legislative reconvening committee who late yesterday issued a formal call for a session of the assembly January 15, today reiterated that the law-makers will consider only financial relief legislation for counties short of operating funds.

"We will confine our activities to the relief measure which has already been drafted," members of the committee declared, counteracting fears expressed in some circles that the session would evolve into one of general "omnibus legislation" and political turmoil.

"We are pledged to enact only the relief measure and we will caucus January 14, the day before the session so that our plans cannot go awry" the committee asserted, attributing the "general session" statements to disgruntled politicians who opposed the session.

DENIES STILLMAN OFFERED WIFE CASH

New York, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, wife of James, Stillman, former president of the National City Bank, who is suing for divorce, has denied that Stillman offered her between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 in lieu of alimony should her suit prove successful.

Through her attorney, Judge Isaac Mills, Mrs. Stillman made it known that her millionaire husband had made her no offers regarding settlement of the suit and as far as she knew he had not withdrawn his plans to contest the action despite rumors that he would make no answer to her petition.

FORMER TEACHER AT STATE UNIVERSITY CONVICTED IN CASE

May Appeal Liquor Decision to U. S. Supreme Court

Columbus, Jan. 5.—United States supreme court may be the ultimate goal of the case of Prof. Dabney Horton, former instructor of English at Ohio State University, found guilty of violating the liquor laws here late yesterday and fined $800.

In a statement today Horton's attorneys announced they were preparing an appeal from the sentence imposed by Justice of the Peace J. H. Holcomb. If the common pleas and state supreme courts affirm the conviction an appeal will be taken to the appellate courts. Thence the case would go to the supreme court, they asserted.

Last night, four hours after his conviction, Horton was notified by acting president George Rightmire of the University that he should consider himself formally dismissed. The Professor had been under suspension since December 9, when dry agents raided his home and confiscated a quantity of liquor and a distilling apparatus.

It is now expected that the investigation of alleged wide-spread drinking and communistic activities at the University will take more definite shape. Horton, following his arrest was accused of being a "parlor communist" and was accused of spreading communistic doctrines. An inquiry was demanded by Gov. Donahy.

Horton's appeal will assail the search warrant under which his home was raided and will charge that Justice Holcomb, is "in league" with the state prohibition department. In this connection his attorneys said, Horton will claim "convictions in Holcomb's court mean the latter's bread and butter through the fees derived therefrom."

Evidence submitted at Horton's trial included a ten gallon still and a quart bottle of amber fluid.

CHARGES OFFICIALS TAKE "HUSH MONEY"; ASK JURY TO CLEAN HOUSE

Steubenville, O., Jan. 5.—Hinting and causing the removal of any guilty official.

A Steubenville police sergeant was arrested recently on liquor law charges. Judge Paisley pointed out that the officer was not suspended by the director of safety.

The company's property is valued at $250,000, the petition says, adding that the concern was organized in 1890 and carried on a successful basis until 1923.

INSPECTOR FALLS TO DEATH FROM BROKEN LADDER; RESCUER ALSO DIES

Akron, O., Jan. 5.—After nineteen hours of labor, firemen, police and a Cleveland diver today recovered the body of Marvin J. Crooks, 29, city sewer inspector who fell to death late yesterday in a new sewer under construction here.

Crooks' body was taken to a morgue together with that of John DeLave, 33, employee of the MacShaffery Construction Co., who also plunged to death in an ineffectual attempt to rescue Crooks.

HOLD ROBERT SCOTT IN CALIFORNIA FOR OLD CHICAGO MURDER

Long Sought Brother Of
Condemned Man Is
Found In Jail

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Robert Scott, reported under arrest in Merced, Cal., will be brought back here to face trial for murder in connection with the killing of Joseph Maurer, young drug clerk, during a hold up, Assistant States Attorney George E. Gorman declared today.

Robert's brother Russell is now in the asylum after desperate fight during which he had several hairbreadth escapes from hanging, following his conviction for the killing of Maurer.

Russell insisted that his brother did the actual killing and he joined his parents and wife in a nation-wide appeal for the return of Robert believing the latter's surrender would stave off the death sentence.

According to word here, Robert conceived the daring idea of breaking into jail to frustrate police efforts to arrest him for murder.

Shortly after the holdup—April of 1924—Robert appeared in San Francisco. He broke into a shop there, according to a story and was captured. Robert confessed to the crime and was sentenced to San Quentin under the name of John Redding. Last Christmas Robert became eligible for parole and the papers were being prepared when Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, of San Francisco, received a tip that John Redding was in reality, Robert Scott.

Matheson asked Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, of Chicago for photographs of Robert. According to word here Matheson is positive that the prisoner is Robert Scott.

COLD WAVE KEEPS CRIMINALS AT BAY

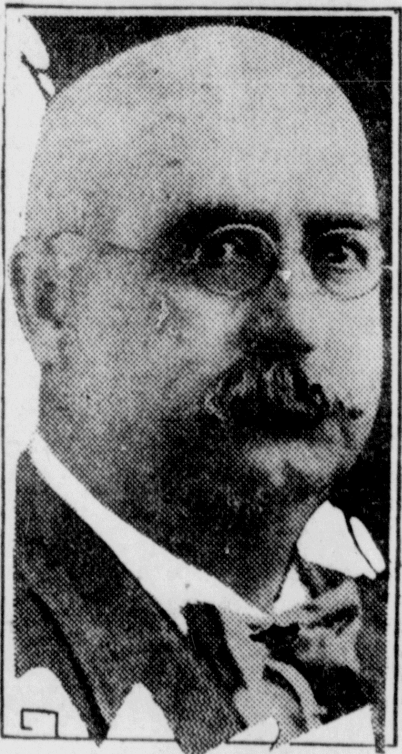

Akron, O., Jan. 5.—The recent cold wave curtailed the activities of criminals, according to the records of Sheriff Chris Weaver.

The pickpocket keeps his hands in his own pockets, the holdup man can't steady his shooting iron in zero weather, safe crackers and lock pickers can't do good work when they must wear gloves, and second-story men will not work when it is cold, Weaver said.

Not a single complaint was brought to the sheriff's office and not a prisoner was arrested during the recent cold spell, Weaver said.

The old-fashioned hobo, whose ragged weariness was once familiar in the late bar-rooms, scorns the soft drink stand and from all evidences has flown southward with the migratory birds, Weaver said.

May Pit State Troops Against U. S. Authorities

Gov. W. P. Hunt is being urged by Arizonans to call out militiamen to protect "state rights" in Kaibab National Forest, as a result of federal authorities' action in refusing to extend hunting season to February, so as to permit reduction of deer herds that are causing damage to vegetation. Issue, as governor Hunt sees it, is whether federal government can invade a sovereign state and claim ownership of its resources.

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE MONEY FOR SCHOOLS CONTINUES IN LIMA

Hope to Raise $10,000 a Month To Keep Schools Open

Lima, O., Jan. 5.—The house to house campaign to raise $10,000 to finance the re-opening of Lima's schools, went forward in earnest today as the citizenry awaited a verdict in the mandamus suit that has tied up county funds.

A committee of thirty-eight business men, led by A. A. Beckman, head of the board of commerce, launched the subscription campaign.

It was planned to obtain at least $1 from each of the 10,000 residents here and under plans adopted when the relief drive was outlined, a $10,000 drive will be made every month until funds can be provided through regular channels.

The mandamus proceedings were instituted by the city to obtain what it termed its "lawful share of county funds." Collection of the money, the county contended in a cross-suit, would close the schools indefinitely.

The city insists it must have the money to maintain its police, fire and other departments.

Toledo, O., Jan. 5.—The appellate court here was expected to announce a decision this afternoon in the mandamus suit brought by the city of Lima to compel Allen county to furnish its lawful share of county taxes.

The court was prepared to announce a decision yesterday but at the request of interested parties, delayed this decision until today.

The case was heard two weeks ago.

MANY WANT TO SELL SITE FOR HOSPITAL

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—The State Department of Welfare is swamped with offers of land to sell as a site for a new feeble minded institution, according to John F. Harper, state welfare director.

More than 100 applications have been received by the department, Harper said. He is turning each proposal over to J. T. Hogsett, chief agriculturalist, and J. B. Youngblood, engineer, for their investigation.

Several of the proposals have been eliminated already, it was said, because of their being unsuitable for institutional purposes.

SOVIETS MAY START WELDING PLANTS

Moscow, Jan. 5.—The soviet cabinet today discussed a project approved by the concessions committee whereby the International Oxygen Company of Newark, N. J., would form a joint stock company with the Russian Metal Syndicate to build oxygen plants as a preliminary to introducing acetylene welding methods in Russia. The concern would be a $500,000 organization building nine plants in the industrial centers of Russia.

GRAND JURY PROBES OPERATION OF RING THROUGH 3 STATES

Score More Indictments
Expected—Wealthy Men
Involved

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—A score of indictments in connection with the operations of a $2,000,000 rum syndicate whose ramifications extended to Philadelphia, Detroit and Cleveland, may be returned by the federal grand jury before dusk, Federal authorities declared today.

The indictments, it was declared will involve two wealthy Philadelphians who supplied 10,000 gallons of alcohol weekly to the ring.

Authorities asserted the ring operated under the guise of perfume and toilet water manufacturers, obtaining the alcohol from government warehouses.

In addition a dozen men in Columbus, Cleveland, Detroit—among them several former prohibition agents—who controlled points of dissemination and operated fleets of motor cars equipped with special liquor tanks will be named, federal attorneys said.

The tank cars were manufactured in Detroit, officers said. One of the vehicles was confiscated recently and two Columbus men were arrested. Accocoe, Evelyn's personal maid, Administrator E. L. Porterfield, the Philadelphia men, each owning property in excess of $500,000 were supposed to have headed the ring.

These men, it was charged, organized the fictitious perfume concern and obtained permits for purchase of alcohol from government warehouses. Fake bills were then filed, it is alleged, showing large purchases of bottles and corks with which to bottle the perfume. Actually, however, it is charged, the corks and bottle were never purchased and the alcohol was diverted into illegal channels.

APPROPRIATION TO BE RUSHED THROUGH

Washington, Jan. 5.—The appropriation requested by President Coolidge to send a U. S. delegation to the preliminary league of nations arms conference will be rushed through both houses of congress.

This assurance was given today by both proponents and opponents of the league of nations.

The appropriation of $50,000 which Mr. Coolidge requested be adopted by the house and there Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee announced it would be placed as an item in the deficiency appropriation bill this week.

Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign relations committee and leading critics of the league indicated they would have no objection to the expenditure and the general impression was that little extraordinary significance would link this country in its first big international undertaking of the league.

OFFERS TO SERVE IN PRISON FOR FRIEND

Washington, Jan. 5.—Chase Osborne, former governor of Michigan, offered to serve the prison sentence of his friend Gov. Warren McCray of Indiana and he so informed President Coolidge in urging the president to parole McCray.

"I have no dependents and I am used to more hardship than a prison entails," Osborne said.

"I am a pretty fair plate printer and I have worked at the trade all my life since I started as a youngster in Chicago."

Osborne is a millionaire and was acquainted by his friendship for Mrs. McCray and her brother, George Ade.

BANDITS GET SILK VALUED AT MILLION

Hong Kong, Jan. 5.—Three hundred bandits today by a daring trick perpetrated the biggest silk robbery in the history of South China when they raided Yung Kee City and took $1,000,000 worth of silk.

After disarming troops in the city they donned the soldier's uniforms and deceived the police by declaring they were the "new garrison" for the place. In this way they were able to take possession of thirty warehouses from which they removed the silk to launches and escaped.

Quick Way to Stop

Night Coughing

New Method is

Remarkably Effective

No need to put up with that distressing, weakening, sleep-robbing night cough another night. For there is a simple but very effective treatment which, usually with a single dose, stops

all irritation and lets you sleep soundly

the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of night coughing. So the coughing stops quickly and you sleep

all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoar-ness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc.

Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one reason-ful. At all good druggists. Ask for

Look In a Mirror

Are there any lines between your eyes? If so, why? Many people have a constant scowl caused solely by eyestrain. This is often so disfiguring that it doesn't matter how attractive the person otherwise appears—the scowl spoils it all.

In most cases the scowls can be "smoothed" out by relieving the eyestrain.

If you have any symptoms of eyestrain you should have us examine your eyes at once. Don't wait until the ugly lines appear between your eyes.

THE PRICE OF CARELESSNESS

STUDY of the coroner's records at Chicago reveals that the deaths of children under 16 in automobile accidents have been reduced. The largest number of deaths of children in accidents of this kind was reported in 1921, when there were 242. This year's number was 209, a reduction of 14 per cent.

In the same time the number of deaths of adults from motor car accidents leaped from 380 in 1921 to 563 in 1925, an increase of 47 per cent. In Cook county as a whole, deaths up to the last week in December totaled 774. As in the city, the greatest proportion obtained among adults.

The figures are illuminating. They show that children can be taught to take care of themselves more easily than grown-ups can be. Educational campaigns in school and parental warnings at home have encouraged in the little ones habits of observation and thinking that are missing to some extent in adults, who take unnecessary chances and frequently pay with their lives.

Safety practices in this country cannot be confined to any age. They are something that vitally concern everybody, regardless of the years lived. Age confers no immunity and lack of it no reduction in chances taken. The automobile, piloted by a careless driver, is no respecter of age, life or the position of the person. The necessity to stop, look and listen grows with increase in the number of people and machines. In view of all modern demands, carelessness is almost criminal.

OUTWITTING GLOOM.

LIKE the old gray mare, the rainy day "ain't like she used to be." Time was when the somberness of the skies found a perfect counter-part in the aspect of the sidewalk. Like so many ravens, citizens slumped by grabbed as darkly as the umbrellas they carried. Garments were of the hue of darkest midnight. Humanity seemed to be in competition with all nature to see which could appear in the most mournful blacks and grays.

But a new era has dawned for the rainy day. Raincoats and umbrellas have assumed all the colors of the rainbow, plus a few inventions of the five chemists. One tiny splash on the pavement is sufficient to cause the street to blossom forth in all the glorious color of a combined autumn scene and florist's hothouse.

The modern rainy day parade is a riot of reds, blues, yellows, greens and plaids embodied in raincoats and umbrellas protecting from the elements humans of both sexes and all ages.

If there is anything in autosuggestion, the transformation from the present should have a salutary effect on the mind. It should now be as hard to be grouchy and sad on a rainy day as it was to be sweet-tempered and exuberant when it was conventional for human beings to affect in raincoat and watersheds the melancholy mood of nature.

THE PUBLIC'S INTEREST

THE anthracite users of the country are not vitally interested either in the miners' or the operators' side of the strike. They are interested solely in coal. Up to the present their interest has been kept subordinate to that of those actively engaged in the mining and distributing of coal. It is high time that the position is reserved.

The miners and operators are seemingly deadlocked in their meeting at New York. Both have forgotten profits and service for what they doubtless deem principle. Principle is all very good, but it is not putting coal in consumers' bins—and coal is what is needed today.

Both sides would make more progress if they would consider the situation less selfishly. The miners have lost wages and their savings accounts must show a great deal of wear and tear from four months of idleness. The operators have lost profits and their plants and equipment must show heavy depreciation from a quarter year's inactivity. Neither is going to benefit a whit from continued idleness. Both, consequently, should give ground in an honest effort to settle differences of opinion and policy in the interest of service. WORLD NEEDS OPTIMISM.

NO INDIVIDUAL can live a normal life under influences that make for the utmost in pessimism. Nations are made up of individuals, and no nation can make progress if its own woes and the woes of the world in general are being constantly paraded for the purposes of arousing sympathy or enabling some writer to earn a little money from the magazines.

The United States in particular is just now suffering from the dissemination of criticism of rulers and statesmen and cynicism regarding the motives and purposes of men and women as they relate to the interests of the common people.

Sometimes it is not sympathy, but a kick, that will do the individual the most good, for it will encourage him to go out and do something for himself. Workers, not whiners, are the need of the time in every nation, and this one in particular.

Radicalism in literature is the bane of any people, and there has been a flood of this sort of writing in the United States for some time. The world needs constructive criticism, but it should not be weakened in its efforts to make progress by the pessimists who decry everything that does not originate in certain circumscribed minds.

Anglo-Saxon Substitute for Real Chinese Chop Suey: Few persons are fortunate enough to be able to get the real Chinese ingredients for this dish—imported bamboo sprouts, Soy sauce, etcetera, so we have to use substitutes, as follows: Measure out two cups of cooked, diced chicken, one cup of uncooked diced celery, one-half cup of canned mushrooms cut small, four medium-sized uncooked onions also diced, one pint of consommé, one cup of cooked white rice, two tablespoons of olive oil and one-half teaspoon of salt. Cook onion in the olive oil for five minutes, then add other ingredients. Serve hot.

THE JOY OF THE FUTURE

Trouble is laughter as soon as its done.
Danger is joy when the battle is won.
The night is forgotten when morning's begun.
So don't stay too long at your walling.
The rough road is dreary to travel but you
Will look back and smile when your journey is through.
You may doubt this today, but you'll find it is true.
So don't fret too much when you're falling.

The care which now burdens you down will grow light.
Your doubts and your fears will soon slip out of sight.
And you'll laugh at them all when you've put them to flight.
So don't be too gloomy about them.
For the pride of tomorrow is fashioned today.
Men boast of the burdens they've borne on the way.
And the fears which this morning fill you with dismay.
You will laugh at the moment you rout them.

There's none of us free from the whip-lash of care.
The gladdest of hearts has been stung by despair.
But all come to beauty some time and some where.
So don't dwell too long in your sorrow.
Be brave and be strong as you stand to the test.
By the burdens you've borne you will see you were blest.
All the hardships endured will seem sweet, as you rest.
And you come to that brighter tomorrow.

SYMPATHY THROUGH UNDERSTANDING

None of us can hope to make the world better unless we understand it. And the only way to understand it is to live.

George Gissing wrote of the poor and unfortunate in the lower classes of London because he understood them. He lived with them though he was not of them. He knew every pang of poverty, of physical and mental suffering. So it was that he could write sympathetically.

No one who has not suffered the mental and physical pangs of hunger can have any idea of the appeal of a hungry man.

He who understands, asks no questions. He acts.

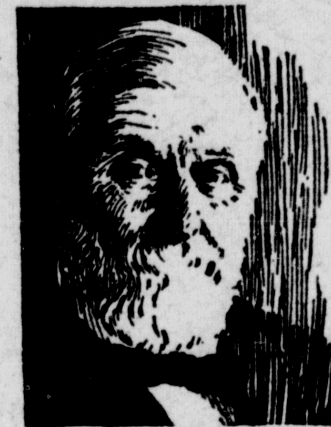

Love's greatest passion springs from the fountain of understanding. The courage of the heart is that of understanding. In great emergencies there is little talking done. Read of the disasters at sea. Invariably you will read of the order and calmness with which most of those on board conducted themselves. The physical has surrendered to the moral.

We receive warmth from the reading of a great book only as we are able to absorb the spirit of the author and all that he lived and felt as he wrote.

My friend knows that I love him, that I would rush to his side when needed, that I am of him a part—brother, partner, co-worker and helper. And he knows he has my backing and that I will stand for the things for which he stands just so long as he is right, though I shall not desert him when he is wrong.

When people understand each other they don't have to look up each other's actions in the dictionary to fathom meanings.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many children had to be kept constantly "stuffed up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE, a public stenographer in a fashionable hotel took the place of a professional dancer who was injured, and danced for one day with HEROME, who is famous on two continents, just before leaving to marry TOM PORTER, a young real-estate salesman who is bitterly jealous of the dancer. She finds time heavy on her hands in their little apartment and wants to go back to work but he disapproves. When he loses his job they have to go to his sister's to live.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

IX—A ROUNDABOUT VICTORY

EMILY was very gracious about letting Tom and Sally come to stay with her until Tom could get a job and Jack came as though the whole thing were a lark of their own planning. "Emily and I are old married folks now—let's see it's been six, or is it seven, months since we were married?"

"Silly," said Emily, hugging him, "just as if you didn't know to the day and hour how long we've been married."

"Well, anyway, as I was saying," Jack went on beaming at her with approval, "we've been married so long we really need some company and amusement—and now here you are. Maybe we can play cards in the evening."

Sally bit her lip to keep back the tears. They were being so dear and kind and she knew how precious their long evenings alone had been to them. Inwardly she prayed that Tom would get a job right away so that they could stop imposing on his sister.

But although Tom got jobs of various sorts from day to day, he never kept them long and never made more than a few dollars at them. Just as soon as he got a job selling office equipment he ran into an old friend who was starting a radio supply store and took a job with him. That evening he was not only optimistic, he talked in big figures, and spoke slightly of men who hadn't the vision to get out of a business rut and try for big profits and a business of their own.

Sally wished that he would stop such airs before the people to whom he was so terribly indebted. He talked in terms of thousands when he hadn't even paid his share of the rent.

His days of bragging soon passed, for the friend abruptly went out of business and back to a job with a big organization, leaving Tom foot-loose and without any income again.

His next job was selling insurance, and Sally thrilled at the thought of his new how he poured over his booklets at night, striving to memorize the seemingly endless details of the business. It would not be long now, before he would be making money. But just as earnestly as he had taken up insurance, he went into soliciting advertising and gradually the conviction grew on Sally that the habit of being a failure was getting a grip on him.

"I simply can't stand it," Sally finally blurted out to Emily. "Don't you think it would be better if I went back to work? Then I could pay you our board until Tom gets a position. I simply can't go on imposing on you this way."

But Emily begged her not even to think of such a course.

"It's a husband's place to be the breadwinner," she insisted. "And you will just ruin your whole married life if you humiliate him in this way. Why the thought of going back to work has never occurred to me since I married Jack."

"But wouldn't it if he couldn't get a job and you had to go to live with his sister? Oh, I am sure you would, Emily. You've been so good to us, but—"

Emily dissuaded her from mentioning the matter to Tom just then, and the weeks dragged on with no hope of a permanent job for Tom in sight. Sally began to feel that she was repaying Emily in a small way for all her hospitality for Emily was ill and Sally insisted on doing all the housework.

Finally, one day when Sally was just beginning preparations for dinner Emily came into the kitchen and slumping into a chair blurted out. "I hate to do this, but there is something I must tell you. I am going to have a baby. We're going to need your room. You don't need to go right away, of course, but I thought I ought to tell you. Won't you speak to Tom about it tonight?"

Sally whirled around, her hands still damp from peeling potatoes, and hugged Emily.

"Oh how wonderful! You must be awfully happy. And don't worry about us. I'll tell Tom tonight and I am sure he will get out and find something. Maybe it has been too easy for him falling back on your hospitality. There, there, don't cry. There's nothing to be worried about."

But when Sally saw how thunder-struck Tom was at the thought of their having no money and no place to live, she too was troubled. Far into the night they talked, going over every possibility again and again. But Tom had tried everything. He didn't know where to look for a job.

Finally Sally got up her nerve to speak and blurted out, "Oh Tom, won't you let me go back to work just for awhile? Mr. Stone said I could always come back to the Diplomat—that they would always have a job for me."

And Tom, crushed, nodded assent. Tomorrow—Paradise—in an Office.

WOMEN WRESTLERS FEATURE MAT CARD STAGED BY EAGLES

Appearance of two champion women wrestlers in an exhibition match featured the wrestling card offered by entertainment committee of Xenia Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the Aerie hall Monday night, launching the winter mat season in Xenia.

Mae Stein, middleweight woman wrestling champion of Cleveland, O., won her match from Miss Teddy Meyers, Baltimore, Md., in two straight falls. The match was the headliner of the show and both women showed themselves to be almost as adept at the game as men.

Miss Stein took the first fall with a wrist lock in ten minutes and the second in twelve minutes with a scissors grip. Their exhibition was so pleasing to fans, they may be rematched at a future date, it is said.

Young Sandow, physical culture expert at Columbus, showed he has lost none of his skill despite his nearly forty-five years, and administered an artistic lacing to Young Tarzan, Clarksburg, W. Va., in the semi-final best two-out-of-three match.

Sandow won the first fall with a double wrist lock in eleven and one-half minutes after his young opponent had repeatedly wriggled free from seemingly impossible holds.

Tarzan got the better of his older and more experienced opponent in the second fall, forcing Sandow into submission after eleven minutes of wrestling with a toe hold.

Tarzan appeared to have put all his energy into winning the second fall, the Columbus expert winning in eleven minutes with a combination scissors and wrist lock.

Wilbur Strowbridge and Gene Wead, local boys, furnished an interesting preliminary in the curtain raiser. The light weights battled around the ring for fifteen minutes with no advantage and the bout was pronounced a draw.

A slim crowd witnessed the card. Matches were refereed by Harry Spencer.

Records alone were established in the match game in the Xenia Bowling League Monday night when the Xenia Quoit Club amassed the largest total ever rolled in the league in taking two out of three games from the league-leading Dice Brothers Lumber Co. quintet.

The winners rolled games of 902, 991 and 943 for the gigantic total of 2,836 easily shattering the former team mark set by the leaders of 2,772. The match was the best of the season as the losers also topped their own high mark by twenty-six pins.

Rolling 991 in the middle game, the Quoit outfit shattered the old team single game record of 984 by seven pins. Jeffries, anchor man for the losers, beat his own high by rolling 257 in his final game, after he had first seen his record fall when Bill Smith rolled 246.

The only record left standing was the three game individual mark of 659 made by Jeffries.

Bayliffs will play Bob's Tires Tuesday night; Criterion will play the Arcade "5" Wednesday night and Tilton's "33" will engage the Ary's "5" Friday night. Box score:

CENTRAL TOSSERS RESUME SCHEDULE WITH GREENVILLE

After enjoying a short vacation, Central High School's basketball team resumed practice Monday in preparation for the first home game of the season with Greenville Saturday night at Central gym.

Central is in no way disheartened by three successive defeats away from home. The team this year is green and inexperienced but is showing a rapid tendency to improve, and a majority of the remaining contests are expected by Coach Vic Kolb to result in victories.

The quintet has shown itself to be essentially a "last-half" team this season. Opposing teams winning from Xenia in early season games have gotten away to a big advantage in the first half, with Central coming back in the final period to outscore opponents in each instance.

Coach Kolb is drilling in his charges the necessity of developing an "eye" for the basket. Basket shooting has been below expectations with which loss of several games is attributed.

Central will meet another stiff opponent in Greenville Saturday and the team hopes to win its first game before a Xenia crowd.

MURDER INDICTMENT RETURNED BY GRAND JURY; NINE CASES IGNORED

Following examination of twelve witnesses and consideration of thirteen cases, January term of the grand jury presented four true bills and ignored nine cases Monday afternoon. Jury reported at 3:30 p. m.

Indictment for first degree murder was returned against Robert H. Turner, 35, colored, Wilmington Pike, confessed slayer of his brother-in-law, Ulysses Deatherage, colored. He previously pleaded guilty to first degree murder before J. E. Jones, justice of the peace.

Leroy Breakall, 19, and William Moore, 19, this city, were each indicted for burglary and larceny in connection with the robbery of the Babu hardware store, S. Detroit St., December 2, of merchandise valued at $117. Arrested less than four hours after the theft was reported, the pair admitted the robbery and all stolen goods were recovered.

Grand jury also returned an indictment for grand larceny against Howard Wilcox, who is alleged to have stolen $65 from Robert Franklin, September 10, 1925.

Final chapter was written in the alleged factional quarrel between Constable Sidney M. Cornelius, Bath Twp., and Marshal W. A. Schneider, Osborn, election day, when the grand jury failed to return indictments against the constable and his two sons, Otto and Grant, on six charges of pointing firearms, assault and carrying concealed weapons, made by the marshal.

Sidney Cornelius was charged with assault, Otto Cornelius with pointing firearms, assault and carrying concealed weapons, and Grant Cornelius with carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms. Marshal Schneider recommended the cases be ignored, it is said.

An echo of the spirited campaign conducted by clients of Attorney F. L. Johnson several months ago to obtain enforcement of Sunday closing laws, following an anti-vice crusade launched by Prosecutor J. Carl Marshall in the county, was heard at the grand jury investigation.

Grand jury failed to return indictments against Tiffin Walker, Jamestown garage man, and C. B. Bales, employee of the Davis Oil Company, Xenia, for selling gasoline on Sunday.

Grand jury of the October term failed to consider the cases because of absence of witnesses.

No indictment was returned by the grand jury against John W. Tanner, Indian scientist, by the use of an extremely delicate probe, in an electric circuit with a sensitive galvanometer. It showed that electric pulsations were generated corresponding to the mechanical pulsations of the heart of the plant.

The movement of the heart of the plants is less than one-millionth part of an inch, and it is magnified ten million times through the use of a sensitive magnetic amplifier.

This fact has just been demonstrated by Sir Jagdish Bose, the eminent Indian scientist, by the use of an extremely delicate probe, in an electric circuit with a sensitive galvanometer. It showed that electric pulsations were generated corresponding to the mechanical pulsations of the heart of the plant.

ARRESTS REACH RECORD PEAK BUT FINES LOW CHIEF GRAHAM SHOWS

Compilation of the record of the Xenia Police Department during the year 1925 shows that although the number of arrests greatly exceeds the 1924 number, total fines and costs assessed fell far below the high mark set in the preceding year, annual report of Police Chief M. E. Graham shows.

A total of 467 arrests were made during the year in comparison with 359 during 1924 and 192 in 1923 of which nearly half of the arrests, 207, were made for violations of the speeding clause in the traffic ordinance. Only seventy-three arrests were made for speeding in the preceding year.

Fines assessed during 1925 in Police Court amounted to $4,358 and costs totaled $841.80, while the 1924 record showed fines of $13,809 and costs of $629.20 of which $5,206 was uncollected.

Despite prohibition enforcement work, number of arrests for drunkenness increased over 1924, seventy-eight being recorded with fifty-three the preceding year. Illegal possession of liquor cases declined to fourteen in 1925 from the mark of thirty-seven set in 1924. MODISH MITZI PICKS NAME FOR HER DOLL; XENIANS RECEIVE MENTION

Mrs. F. W. Butler, Valley Creek, Claiborne County, Tenn., has been awarded the $50 prize offered for the best name suggested for the doll introduced in the Modish Mitzi feature appearing in this paper.

Mrs. Butler's suggestion, "Chuck O'Luck," was selected by the judges from more than 1,000,000 names submitted through the newspapers which print this feature from all over the United States. Announcement of the winner was made Tuesday by The George Matthew Adams Service, New York City, which syndicates the feature to these newspapers.

Modish Mitzi is the product of three New York girls whose combined initials are J. V. J. One of the girls visits New York shops daily and obtains descriptions of newest fashion modes. A second girl draws the pictures to accompany the feature and a third writes the script which tells the story.

When Mitzi acquired her new doll, readers all over the country were asked to submit name suggestions for the toy. Several hundred were submitted from readers of The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican in New York. These papers had nothing to do with the selection of the name, the judging being done at New York.

Judges however, selected a list of those deserving honorable mention from the names submitted through these papers. This list follows:

"Slats," Mrs. Rosa M. Smith, Cedarville; "Primps," Rosa M. DeWine, 436 N. Galloway St., Xenia; "Jazzette," Nello G. McKay, 110 1-2 W. Second St., Xenia; "Moppy," K. M. Kelble, 127 W. Second St., Xenia; "Lanky Loll," Mrs. Ward Huston, 851 N. Galloway St., Xenia; "Flops," Jean Marshall, 648 N. King St., Xenia; "Flap-Peretta," A. Chrisman (no street address); "Pam," (for initials of Polly, Adelaide and Mitzi) Janice M. Owens, 40 W. Third St., Xenia.

Mitzi officially gives her doll its new name in an extra edition of the feature appearing in this paper.

Mitzi has been shopping all day and she is completely tired out! "You don't seem to have much to show for a hard day's work," observes Dad—hopelessly, perhaps. "Just wait till I show you," says Mitzi and while we wait notice her dress with its smart folds collar and embroidered trim-ming.

"And this bag!" continues Mitzi with an injured air. "If you think that this is a common bag you are quite wrong. This is the very newest Paris bag. It is an antelope bag lined with kidskin and it has a special monogram flap. The very latest shape and size."

"It took me hours to find this," Mitzi explains. It's a feather flower—quite the smartest sort of flower to wear on one's coat, or on a dress at the shoulder. It is made not of sprawly feathers, but of flat sleek feathers and has a tailored sort of air. Most new!

"This scarf, too," Mitzi continues, "is quite unusual for two reasons. It is painted in futurist designs and it is trimmed with fur that matches the fur of a new little hat I bought. If you think shopping is easy—" but Dad has fled and flown away long since. He knows Mitzi!

CITY FINANCES ARE IN HEALTHY STATE SAYS CITY MANAGER

Healthy condition of the four funds in the city for which taxes are levied is indicated in the annual summary report for 1925 prepared by City Manager S. O. Hale.

Expenditures during the year increased slightly over receipts, the report indicates, but no overdrafts appear in any fund January 1, 1926, in contrast to a deficit in the safety fund at the close of the year 1924.

The report shows an auditor's balance January 1, 1925 of $15,125.94 and a balance January 1, 1926 of $12,094.19. Receipts during the past year amounted to $55,249.72 and expenditures totaled $58,281.47.

Receipts in the general fund during 1925 were $11,232.27 and disbursements were listed at $9,306.22, according to the report. A balance of $13,759.83 existed in the fund starting 1925 and the balance January 1, 1926, was $10,686.88. The report shows that an additional $5,000 was transferred from the general to the safety fund during the year making an actual disbursement of $14,306.22 in the general fund.

The health fund showed a balance of $540.65 in 1925 and $629.15 January 1, 1926. Receipts in this fund were $2,307.15 during the year in comparison with expenditures of $2,218.65.

The safety fund showed a balance of $73.51 January 1925, and a balance of $251.12, January 1, 1926, resulting from receipts of $21,925.10 and expenditures of $26,747.49 during 1925. The $5,000 transfer enabled this fund to record a small balance in 1926.

Receipts in the service fund amounted to $14,784.20 and expenditures were $15,009.11. The service fund showed a balance of $751.95 in 1925 and $527.04 January, 1926.

RETIRING MAYOR IS GIVEN AUTOMOBILE

New Lexington, O., Jan. 5.—Charles W. King, Republican, recently retired as mayor of New Lexington, has an automobile in his garage today, the gift of four high school girls, reprimanded by King a few days ago.

The girls were riding with nine others in and on a "flivver" when cited by Marshall John Adams to appear before King.

King looked at the calendar, saw it was Friday, saw the thirteen girls, learned they were celebrating New Lexington's victory at football and let them off with a slight reprimand.

Before going out of office the automobile was given King, with an added gift of a box of candy.

URGES EDUCATION MEMBER IN CABINET

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Dr. Harry W. Rockwell, principal of the state normal school at Buffalo believes it will take 85 years to eradicate illiteracy from the United States at the present rate of progress in education.

The United States has an illiteracy of six per cent compared with one per cent in Germany and 1.8 per cent in Belgium.

Dr. Rockwell advocated the creation of the position of secretary of education in the President's cabinet.

There are twenty-two nations which have national officers corresponding to the position of secretary of education," he said. In this country there is a bureau of education tucked away under the Department of Interior. When the cause of education is pleaded it is heard only by committees of congress."

Suicide Effort Comes As Climax to Party In Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, dancer and divorced wife of Harry K. Thaw, swallowed poison here today while in a state of depression but will recover, Dr. E. Thomas Brand announced after a vigorous application of the stomach pump and other first aid action.

Evelyn, who has been here two weeks, took eight ounces of lysol as the climax to a lengthy "party" according to Miss Gusse Accocoe, Evelyn's personal maid.

Gusse told Dr. Brand that Evelyn this morning had demanded some beer.

"A little later I found her on the floor, screaming she had taken poison," Gusse told Dr. Brand.

Russell, 17-year-old son of the dancer, accompanied his mother to the hospital. Police questioned him for a motive for the suicide attempt, but Russell could throw little light on the matter. He said he believed his mother was depressed.

Gusse said that depression caused the suicide attempt.

Gusse also said that Evelyn disappeared New Year's eve and did not show up until Monday. Evelyn's nose was broken and the only explanation she gave was that she had attended a house party, Gusse said.

SAY RENUNCIATION OF THRONE FORGERY

Milan, Jan. 5.—The mystery surrounding the renunciation of Rumanian throne rights by Crown Prince Carol grew deeper today when Carol's entourage informed the United Press that Carol himself was ignorant of the letter of abdication written to Bucharest and signed allegedly with Carol's name.

This revelation came only after the Bucharest House and Senate had accepted the renunciation and also accepted the law naming Carol's son Prince Mihai (Michael) as heir presumptive and providing for a regency in event of King Ferdinand's death.

The United Press informant, said the letter of renunciation was written in Rumania while Carol was in Italy. Carol's intimates are insistent that the letter was a forgery to further the political ambitions of Rumanian statesmen.

This Mrs. Stieler did. Yesterday while looking through the telephone book, she happened to see the name Martin Stieler. She investigated and says she found the man who deserted her.

Now Stieler is under arrest for desertion.

Product Of New York's East Side Marries Heiress; Berlin and Bride on Honeymoon

New York, Jan. 5.—In one of the Presidential suites of the liner Leviathan, Irving Berlin will take his bride, the former Ellen Mackay, to Europe.

Berlin will sail luxuriously and in company with one of the nation's wealthiest heiresses to a country from which he came in poverty.

It is a stretch of imagination to see in the successful song writer and publisher whose annual income is estimated at $500,000, the one-time "Izzy" Baline, youngest of a Jewish Rabbi's eight children.

The wealth that is Berlin's came from the grimy pavements of New York's East Side in contrast to the fortune which some day may be his wife's for John W. Mackay, the bride's grand father found his bonanza with the "Forty-niners" in the West. Her father, Clarence Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company has added many times to the original estate and has taken a high place in society and finance.

Berlin and Miss Mackay were married yesterday—without parental consent. The wedding was arranged by telephone, office associates of the composer served as witnesses and a city clerk officiated. The tempo of the marriage was typical of the strange translation of the noise and tumult of the largest city which Berlin has made in his melodies.

Clarence Mackay was stunned at the news of the marriage. Although rumors that his daughter might wed the song writer had been current Mackay had always insisted that they were without basis in fact. Curtly he issued a statement in which he said the ceremony was without his "knowledge or approval."

The bride's mother now Mrs. Joseph A. Blake, declined to comment, but it is believed that she regarded the match with more favor than did her former husband from whom she was divorced many years ago.

The Berlins, radiantly happy, met newspaper men outside the home but would not speak definitely of their plans. It was reported that Mrs. Berlin, a Catholic, would ask that her husband agree to a religious ceremony before they sail on the Leviathan.

Promise No Further Action Will Be Taken By Assembly

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—Members of the legislative reconvening committee who late yesterday issued a formal call for a session of the assembly January 15, today reiterated that the law-makers will consider only financial relief legislation for counties short of operating funds.

"We will confine our activities to the relief measure which has already been drafted," members of the committee declared, counteracting fears expressed in some circles that the session would evolve into one of general "omnibus legislation" and political turmoil.

"We are pledged to enact only the relief measure and we will caucus January 14, the day before the session so that our plans cannot go awry," the committee asserted, attributing the "general session" statements to disgruntled politicians who opposed the session.

Through her attorney, Judge Isaac Mills, Mrs. Stillman made it known that her millionaire husband had made her no offers regarding settlement of the suit and as far as she knew he had not withdrawn his plans to contest the action despite rumors that he would make no answer to her petition.

FORMER TEACHER AT STATE UNIVERSITY
CONVICTED IN CASE

May Appeal Liquor Decision to U. S. Supreme Court

Columbus, Jan. 5.—United States supreme court may be the ultimate goal of the case of Prof. Dabney Horton, former instructor of English at Ohio State University, found guilty of violating the liquor laws here late yesterday and fined $800.

In a statement today Horton's attorneys announced they were preparing an appeal from the sentence imposed by Justice of the Peace J. H. Holcomb. If the common pleas and state supreme courts affirm the conviction an appeal will be taken to the appellate courts. Thence the case would go to the supreme court, they asserted.

Last night, four hours after his conviction, Horton was notified by acting president George Rightmire of the University that he should consider himself formally dismissed. The professor had been under suspension since December 9, when dry agents raided his home and confiscated a quantity of liquor and a distilling apparatus.

It is now expected that the investigation of alleged widespread drinking and communistic activities at the University will take more definite shape. Horton, following his arrest was accused of being a "barlor communist" and was accused of spreading communistic doctrines. An inquiry was demanded by Gov. Donahoe.

Horton's appeal will assail the search warrant under which his home was raided and will charge that Justice Holcomb, is "in league" with the state prohibition department. In this connection his attorneys said, Horton will claim "conviction in Holcomb's court mean the latter's bread and butter through the fees derived therefrom."

Evidence submitted at Horton's trial included a ten gallon still and a quart bottle of amber fluid.

INSPECTOR FALLS TO DEATH FROM BROKEN LADDER; RESCUER ALSO DIES

Akron, O., Jan. 5.—After nineteen hours of labor, firemen, police and a Cleveland diver today recovered the body of Marvin J. Crooks, 39, city sewer inspector who fell to death late yesterday in a new sewer under construction here.

Crooks' body was taken to a morgue together with that of John DeLave, 33, employee of the MacShaffery Construction Co., who also plunged to death in an ineffectual attempt to rescue Crooks.

Crooks had gone down into the sewer to inspect a branch connection when the ladder on which he was standing collapsed, plunging him into the cavern below. DeLave, who was watching Crooks' progress from a manhole, saw him and started down the ladder in an attempt to rescue him. Another rung snapped and DeLave fell.

Firemen and police worked most of the night in an effort to reach the bodies. The diver was called at 2 a. m. and the bodies were recovered eight hours later with grappling hooks.

HOLD ROBERT SCOTT IN CALIFORNIA FOR OLD CHICAGO MURDER

Long Sought Brother Of
Condemned Man Is Found In Jail

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Robert Scott, reported under arrest in Merced, Cal., will be brought back here to face trial for murder in connection with the killing of Joseph Maurer, young drug clerk, during a hold up, Assistant States Attorney George E. Gorman declared today.

Robert's brother Russell is now in the asylum after desperate fight during which he had several hair-raising escapes from hanging, following his conviction for the killing of Maurer.

Russell insisted that his brother did the actual killing and he joined his parents and wife in a nation-wide appeal for the return of Robert believing the latter's surrender would stave off the death sentence.

According to word here, Robert conceived the daring idea of breaking into jail to frustrate police efforts to arrest him for murder.

Shortly after the holdup—April of 1924—Robert appeared in San Francisco. He broke into a shop there, according to a story and was captured. Robert confessed to the crime and was sentenced to San Quentin under the name of John Redding.

Last Christmas Robert became eligible for parole and the papers were being prepared when Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, of San Francisco, received a tip that John Redding was in reality, Robert Scott. Matheson asked Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, of Chicago, for photographs of Robert. According to word here Matheson is positive that the prisoner is Robert Scott.

COLD WAVE KEEPS CRIMINALS AT BAY

Akron, O., Jan. 5.—The recent cold wave curtailed the activities of criminals, according to the records of Sheriff Chris Weaver.

The pickpocket keeps his hands in his own pockets, the holdup man can't steady his shooting iron in zero weather, safe crackers and lock pickers can't do good work when they must wear gloves, and second-story men will not work when it is cold, Weaver said.

Not a single complaint was brought to the sheriff's office and not a prisoner was arrested during the recent cold spell, Weaver said.

The old-fashioned hobo, whose ragged weariness was once familiar in the late bar-rooms, scorns the soft drink stand and from all evidences has flown southward with the migratory birds, Weaver said.

Hunt is being urged by Arizonans to call out militiamen to protect "state rights" in Kaibab National Forest, as a result of federal authorities' action in refusing to extend hunting season to February, so as to permit reduction of deer herds that are causing damage to vegetation. Issue, as governor Hunt sees it, is whether federal government can invade a sovereign state and claim ownership of its resources.

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE MONEY FOR SCHOOLS

Hope to Raise $10,000 a Month To Keep Schools Open

Lima, O., Jan. 5.—The house to house campaign to raise $10,000 to finance the re-opening of Lima's schools, went forward in earnest today as the citizenry awaited a verdict in the mandamus suit that has tied up county funds.

A committee of thirty-eight business men, led by A. A. Beckman, head of the board of commerce, launched the subscription campaign.

It was planned to obtain at least $1 from each of the 10,000 residents here and under plans adopted when the relief drive was outlined, a $10,000 drive will be made every month until funds can be provided through regular channels.

The mandamus proceedings were instituted by the city to obtain what it termed its "lawful share of county funds." Collection of the money, the county contended in a cross-suit, would close the schools indefinitely.

The city insists it must have the money to maintain its police, fire and other departments.

Toledo, O., Jan. 5.—The appellate court here was expected to announce a decision this afternoon in the mandamus suit brought by the city of Lima to compel Allen county to furnish its lawful share of county taxes.

The court was prepared to announce a decision yesterday but at the request of interested parties, delayed the decision until today.

The case was heard two weeks ago.

MANY WANT TO SELL
SITE FOR HOSPITAL

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—The State Department of Welfare is swamped with offers of land to sell as a site for a new feeble minded institution, according to John F. Harper, state welfare director.

More than 100 applications have been received by the department, Harper said. He is turning each proposal over to J. T. Hogsett, chief agriculturalist, and J. E. Youngblood, engineer, for their investigation.

Several of the proposals have been eliminated already, it was said, because of their being unsuitable for institutional purposes.

SOVIETS MAY START

Moscow, Jan. 5.—The soviet cabinet today discussed a project approved by the concessions committee whereby the International Oxygen Company of Newark, N. J., would form a joint stock company with the Russian Metal Syndicate to build oxygen plants as a preliminary to introducing acetylene welding methods in Russia. The concern would be a $500,000 organization building nine plants in the industrial centers of Russia.

GRAND JURY PROBES
OPERATION OF RING
THROUGH 3 STATES

Score More Indictments
Expected—Wealthy Men
Involved

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—A score of indictments in connection with the operations of a $2,000,000 rum syndicate whose ramifications extended to Philadelphia, Detroit and Cleveland, may be returned by the federal grand jury before dusk, Federal authorities declared today.

The indictments, it was declared will involve two wealthy Philadelphians who supplied 10,000 gallons of alcohol weekly to the ring.

Authorities asserted the ring operated under the guise of perfume and toilet water manufacturers, obtaining the alcohol from government warehouses.

In addition a dozen men in Columbus, Cleveland, Detroit—among them several former prohibition agents—who controlled points of dissemination and operated fleets of motor cars equipped with special liquor tanks will be named, federal attorneys said.

The tank cars were manufactured in Detroit, officers said. One of the vehicles was confiscated recently and two Columbus men were arrested. Accocoe, Evelyn's personal maid, Administrator E. L. Porterfield, the Philadelphia men, each owning property in excess of $500,000 were supposed to have headed the ring.

These men, it was charged, organized the fictitious perfume concerns and obtained permits for purchase of alcohol from government warehouses. Fake bills were then filed. It is alleged, showing large purchases of bottles and corks with which to bottle perfume. Actually, however, it is charged, the corks and bottle were never purchased and the alcohol was diverted into illegal channels.

APPROPRIATION TO BE RUSHED THROUGH

Washington, Jan. 5.—The appropriation requested by President Coolidge to send a U. S. delegation to the preliminary league of nations arms conference will be rushed through both houses of congress.

This assurance was given today by both proponents and opponents of the league of nations.

The appropriation of $50,000 which Mr. Coolidge requested be adopted by the house and there Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee announced it would be placed as an item in the deficiency appropriation bill this week.

Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign relations committee and leading critics of the league indicated they would have no objection to the expenditure and the general impression was that little extraordinary significance would link this country in its first big international undertaking of the league.

OFFERS TO SERVE IN PRISON FOR FRIEND

Washington, Jan. 5.—Chase Osborne, former governor of Michigan, offered to serve the prison sentence of his friend Gov. Warren McCray of Indiana and he so informed President Coolidge in urging the president to parole McCray.

"I have no dependents and I am used to more hardship than a prison entails," Osborne said.

"I am a pretty fair plate printer and I have worked at the trade all my life since I started as a youngster in Chicago."

Osborne is a millionaire and was actuated by his friendship for Mrs. McCray and her brother, George Ade.

BANDITS GET SILK VALUED AT MILLION

Hong Kong, Jan. 5.—Three hundred bandits today by a daring trick perpetrated the biggest silk robbery in the history of South China when they raided Yung Kee City and took $1,000,000 worth of silk.

After disarming troops in the city they donned the soldier's uniforms and deceived the police by declaring they were the "new garrison" for the place. In this way they were able to take possession of thirty warehouses from which they removed the silk to launches and escaped.

MAN SCRATCHED BY "CHICKEN" LEARNS WORST YET TO COME

Judge S. C. Wright imposed a fine of $10 and costs and a sentence of one year in the Dayton Workhouse for non-support of his children upon James H. Bowen, colored, Yellow Springs, in Probate Court Monday afternoon. He pleaded guilty.

Judge Wright told Bowen the sentence and fine would be suspended if he was able to make suitable arrangements to care for his children and arrange for sufficient food, in default of this alternative, Bowen is to be sent to Dayton.

Bowen's right arm was seriously cut and his trousers badly slashed by a jealous "lady friend" in a recent quarrel in Dayton. The woman is held to the grand jury in Dayton for alleged cutting with intent to kill. It is alleged she became jealous when Bowen "killed" her for another woman and chased him with a knife inflicting serious injuries.

She is said to have proceeded to "get even" by informing Dayton police Bowen was wanted in Xenia for non-support of his divorced wife and children in Yellow Springs. Local authorities were notified and Bowen was brought to Xenia Saturday night.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Quick Way to Stop

Night Coughing

Now Method Is Remarkably Effective

No need to put up with that distressing, weakening, sleep-robbing night cough another night. For there is a simple but very effective treatment which, usually with a single dose, stops all irritation and lets you sleep soundly the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of night coughing. So the coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

County Sets Aside Appropriation to Aid Township Roads

Greene County Commissioners adopted a resolution Monday directing County Auditor R. O. Wedd to set aside $12,000 from the road fund to be used for the improvement of roads in each of the county's twelve townships.

An application is to be made to the state highway department for a similar amount in an effort to cut a slice of the $350,000 million of "first come" first served" money available to townships in the state under terms of the Green law, for use in improving township roads.

The $350,000 fund is not sufficient to cover the share of all townships in the state but will be made to go as far as possible in $1,000 allotments until exhausted, with the result townships applying for the money first, will be given first consideration.

If Greene County's applications are approved, every township in the county will receive $2,000 for road improvements, $1,000 from the state and $1,000 from the county road fund.

Twenty-four miles of township roads in the county will be improved either by gravel or stone or surface-treated at a minimum cost of $1,000 per mile.

THE PRICE OF CARELESSNESS

STUDY of the coroner's records at Chicago reveals that the deaths of children under 16 in automobile accidents have been reduced. The largest number of deaths of children in accidents of this kind was reported in 1921, when there were 242. This year's number was 209, a reduction of 14 per cent.

In the same time the number of deaths of adults from motor car accidents leaped from 380 in 1921 to 563 in 1925, an increase of 47 per cent. In Cook county as a whole, deaths up to the last week in December totaled 774. As in the city, the greatest proportion obtained among adults.

The figures are illuminating. They show that children can be taught to take care of themselves more easily than grown-ups can be. Educational campaigns in school and parental warnings at home have encouraged in the little ones habits of observation and thinking that are missing to some extent in adults, who take unnecessary chances and frequently pay with their lives.

Safety practices in this country cannot be confined to any age. They are something that vitally concern everybody, regardless of the years lived. Age confers no immunity and lack of it no reduction in chances taken. The automobile, piloted by a careless driver, is no respecter of age, life or the position of the person. The necessity to stop, look and listen grows with increase in the number of people and machines. In view of all modern demands, carelessness is almost criminal.

OUTWITTING GLOOM.

LIKE the old gray mare, the rainy day "ain't like she used to be." Time was when the somberness of the skies found a perfect counter-part in the aspect of the sidewalk. Like so many ravens, citizens slumped by graced as darkly as the umbrellas they carried. Garments were of the hue of darkest midnight. Humanity seemed to be in competition with all nature to see which could appear in the most mournful blacks and grays.

But a new era has dawned for the rainy day. Raincoats and umbrellas have assumed all the colors of the rainbow, plus a few inventions of the five chemists. One tiny splash on the pavement is sufficient to cause the street to blossom forth in all the glorious color of a combined autumn scene and florist's hothouse.

The modern rainy day parade is a riot of reds, blues, yellows, greens and plaids embodied in raincoats and umbrellas protecting from the elements humans of both sexes and all ages.

If there is anything in autosuggestion, the transformation from the present should have a salutary effect on the mind. It should now be as hard to be grouchy and sad on a rainy day as it was to be sweet-tempered and exuberant when it was conventional for human beings to affect in raiment and watersheds the melancholy mood of nature.

THE PUBLIC'S INTEREST

THE anthracite users of the country are not vitally interested either in the miners' or the operators' side of the strike. They are interested solely in coal. Up to the present their interest has been kept subordinate to that of those actively engaged in the mining and distributing of coal. It is high time that the position is reserved.

The miners and operators are seemingly deadlocked in their meeting at New York. Both have forgotten profits and service for what they doubtless deem principle. Principle is all very good, but it is not putting coal in consumers' bins—and coal is what is needed today.

Both sides would make more progress if they would consider the situation less selfishly. The miners have lost wages and their savings accounts must show a great deal of wear and tear from four months of idleness. The operators have lost profits and their plants and equipment must show heavy depreciation from a quarter year's inactivity. Neither is going to benefit a whit from continued idleness. Both, consequently, should give ground in an honest effort to settle differences of opinion and policy in the interest of service. WORLD NEEDS OPTIMISM.

NO INDIVIDUAL can live a normal life under influences that make for the utmost in pessimism. Nations are made up of individuals, and no nation can make progress if its own woes and the woes of the world in general are being constantly paraded for the purposes of arousing sympathy or enabling some writer to earn a little money from the magazines.

The United States in particular is just now suffering from the dissemination of criticism of rulers and statesmen and cynicism regarding the motives and purposes of men and women as they relate to the interests of the common people.

Sometimes it is not sympathy, but a kick, that will do the individual the most good, for it will encourage him to go out and do something for himself. Workers, not whiners, are the need of the time in every nation, and this one in particular.

Radicalism in literature is the bane of any people, and there has been a flood of this sort of writing in the United States for some time. The world needs constructive criticism, but it should not be weakened in its efforts to make progress by the pessimists who decry everything that does not originate in certain circumscribed minds.

A. S.: "I would appreciate recipes for both Chop Suey and Yocker Mein."

Answer: I have the former, but not one for Yocker Mein. Perhaps however, some reader may have the latter?

Anglo-Saxon Substitute for Real Chinese Chop Suey: Few persons are fortunate enough to be able to get the real Chinese ingredients for this dish—imported bamboo sprouts, soy sauce, etcetera, so we have to use substitutes, as follows: Measure out two cups of cooked, diced chicken, one cup of uncooked diced celery, one-half cup of canned mushrooms cut small, four medium-sized uncooked onions also diced, one pint of consommé, one cup of cooked white rice, two tablespoons of olive oil and one-half teaspoon of salt. Cook onion in the olive oil for five minutes, then add other ingredients. Serve hot.

Just Folks

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE JOY OF THE FUTURE
Trouble is laughter as soon as its its done.
Danger is joy when the battle is won.
The night is forgotten when morning's begun.
So don't stay too long at your waiting.
The rough road is dreary to travel but you
Will look back and smile when your journey is through.
You may doubt this today, but you'll find it is true.
So don't fret too much when you're falling.

The care which now burdens you down will grow light.
Your doubts and your fears will soon slip out of sight.
And you'll laugh at them all when you've put them to flight.
So don't be too gloomy about them.
For the pride of tomorrow is fashioned today.
Men boast of the burdens they've borne on the way.
And the fears which this morning fill you with dismay.
You will laugh at the moment you rout them.

There's none of us free from the whip-lash of care.
The gladdest of hearts has been stung by despair.
But all come to beauty some time and some where.
So don't dwell too long in your sorrow.
Be brave and be strong as you stand to the test.
By the burdens you've borne you will see you were blest.
All the hardships endured will seem sweet, as you rest.
And you come to that brighter tomorrow.

SYMPATHY THROUGH UNDERSTANDING

None of us can hope to make the world better unless we understand it. And the only way to understand it is to live.

George Gissing wrote of the poor and unfortunate in the lower classes of London because he understood them. He lived with them though he was not of them. He knew every pang of poverty, of physical and mental suffering. So it was that he could write sympathetically.

No one who has not suffered the mental and physical pangs of hunger can have any idea of the appeal of a hungry man.

He who understands, asks no questions. He acts.

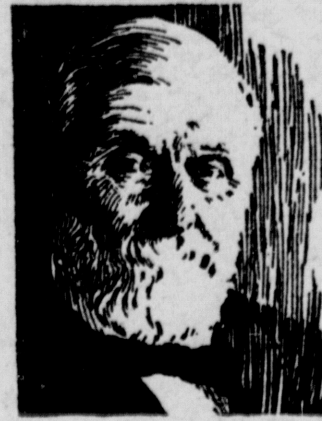

Love's greatest passion springs from the fountain of understanding. The courage of the heart is that of understanding. In great emergencies there is little talking done. Read of the disasters at sea. Invariably you will read of the order and calmness with which most of those on board conducted themselves. The physical has surrendered to the moral.

We receive warmth from the reading of a great book only as we are able to absorb the spirit of the author and all that he lived and felt as he wrote.

My friend knows that I love him, that I would rush to his side when needed, that I am of him a part—brother, partner, co-worker and helper. And he knows he has my backing and that I will stand for the things for which he stands just so long as he is right, though I shall not desert him when he is wrong.

When people understand each other they don't have to look up the definitions of the dictionary to fathom meanings.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many children had to be kept constantly "stuffed up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE, a public stenographer in a fashionable hotel took the place of a professional dancer who was injured, and danced for one day with

JEROME, who is famous on two continents, just before leaving to marry

TOM PORTER, a young real-estate salesman who is bitterly jealous of the dancer. She finds time heavy on her hands in their little apartment and wants to go back to work but he disapproves. When he loses his job they have to go to his sister's to live.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

IX—A ROUNDABOUT VICTORY

EMILY was very gracious about letting Tom and Sally come to stay with her until Tom could get a job and Jack acted as though the whole thing were a lark of their own planning.

"Sally," said Emily, hugging him, "just as if you didn't know to the day and hour how long we've been married."

"Well, anyway, as I was saying," Jack went on beaming at her with approval, "we've been married so long we really need some company and amusement—and now here you are. Maybe we can play cards in the evening."

Sally bit her lip to keep back the tears. They were being so dear and kind and she knew how precious their long evenings alone had been to them. Inwardly she prayed that Tom would get a job right away so that they could stop imposing on his sister.

But although Tom got jobs of various sorts from day to day, he never kept them long and never made more than a few dollars at them. Just as soon as he got a job selling office equipment he ran into an old friend who was starting a radio supply store and took a job with him. That evening he was not only optimistic, he talked in big figures, and spoke slightly of men who hadn't the vision to get out of a business rut and try for big profits and a business of their own.

Sally wished that he would stop. It was ridiculous for him to put such airs before the people to whom he was so terribly indebted. He talked in terms of thousands when he hadn't even paid his share of the rent.

His days of bragging soon passed, for the frigid abruptly went out of business and back to a job with a big organization, leaving Tom foot-loose and without any income again.

His next job was selling insurance, and Sally thrilled with pride when she saw how he poured over his booklets at night, striving to memorize the seemingly endless details of the business. It would not be long now, before he would be making money. But just as earnestly, he had taken up insurance he went into soliciting advertising and gradually the conviction grew on Sally that the habit of being a failure was getting a grip on him.

"I simply can't stand it," Sally

finally blurted out to Emily. "Don't you think it would be better if I went back to work? Then I could pay you our board until Tom gets a position. I simply can't go on imposing on you this way."

But Emily begged her not even to think of such a course.

"It's a husband's place to be the breadwinner," she insisted. "And you will just ruin your whole married life if you humiliate him in this way. Why the thought of going back to work has never occurred to me since I married Jack."

"But wouldn't it if he couldn't get a job and you had to go to live with his sister? Oh, I am sure you would, Emily. You've been so good to us, but—"

Emily dissuaded her from mentioning the matter to Tom just then, and the weeks dragged on with no hope of a permanent job for Tom in sight. Sally began to feel that she was repaying Emily in a small way for all her hospitality for Emily was ill and Sally insisted on doing all the housework.

Finally, one day when Sally was just beginning preparations for dinner Emily came into the kitchen and slumping into a chair blurted out, "I hate to do this, but there is something I must tell you. I am going to have a baby. We're going to need your room. You don't need to go right away, of course, but I thought I ought to tell you. Won't you speak to Tom about it tonight?" Sally whirled around, her hands still damp from peeling potatoes, and hugged Emily.

"Oh how wonderful! You must be awfully happy. And don't worry about us. I'll tell Tom tonight and I am sure he will get out and find something. Maybe it has been too easy for him falling back on your hospitality. There, there, don't cry. There's nothing to be worried about."

But when Sally saw how thunder-struck Tom was at the thought of their having no money and no place to live, she too was troubled. Far into the night they talked, going over every possibility again and again. But Tom had tried everything. He didn't know where to look for a job.

Finally Sally got up her nerve to speak and blurted out, "Oh Tom, won't you let me go back to work just for awhile? Mr. Stone said I could always come back to the Diplomat—that they would always have a job for me."

And Tom, crushed, nodded assent.

Tomorrow—Paradise—in an Office.

Tom and Sally were sitting at the table, looking at each other. Tom was looking at Sally with a look of surprise. Sally was looking at Tom with a look of surprise. They were both looking at each other with a look of surprise.

WOMEN WRESTLERS FEATURE MAT CARD STAGED BY EAGLES

Appearance of two champion women wrestlers in an exhibition match featured the wrestling card offered by entertainment committee of Xenia Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the Aerie hall Monday night, launching the winter mat season in Xenia.

Mae Stein, middleweight woman wrestling champion of Cleveland, O., won her match from Miss Teddy Meyers, Baltimore, Md., in two straight falls. The match was the headliner of the show and both women showed themselves to be almost as adept at the game as men.

Miss Stein took the first fall with a wrist lock in ten minutes and the second in twelve minutes with a scissors grip. Their exhibition was so pleasing to fans, they may be re-matched at a future date, it is said.

Young Sandow, physical culture expert at Columbus, showed he has lost none of his skill despite his nearly forty-five years, and administered an artistic lacing to Young Tarzan, Clarkburg, W. Va., in the semi-final best two-out-of-three match.

Sandow won the first fall with a double wrist lock in eleven and one-half minutes after his young opponent had repeatedly wriggled free from seemingly impossible holds.

Tarzan got the better of his older and more experienced opponent in the second fall, forcing Sandow into submission after eleven minutes of wrestling with a toe hold.

Tarzan appeared to have put all his energy into winning the second fall, the Columbus expert winning in eleven minutes with a combination scissors and wrist lock.

Wilbur Strowbridge and Gene Ward, local boys, furnished an interesting preliminary in the curtain raiser. The light weights battled around the ring for fifteen minutes with no advantage and the bout was pronounced a draw.

A slim crowd witnessed the card. Matches were refereed by Harry Spencer.

BOWLING LOOP TILT SHATTERS RECORDS ON ARCADE ALLEYS

Records galore were established in the match game in the Xenia Bowling League Monday night when the Xenia Quoit Club amassed the largest total ever rolled in the league in taking two out of three games from the league-leading Dice Brothers Lumber Co. quintet.

The winners rolled games of 902, 991 and 943 for the gigantic total of 2,836 easily shattering the former team mark set by the leaders of 2,772. The match was the best of the season as the losers also topped their own high mark by twenty-six pins.

Rolling 991 in the middle game, the Quoit outfit shattered the old team single game record of 984 by seven pins. Jeffries, anchor man for the losers, beat his own high individual single game record of 245 by rolling 257 in his final game, after he had first seen his record fall when Bill Smith rolled 246.

The only record left standing was the three game individual mark of 659 made by Jeffries.

Bayliffs will play Bob's Tires Tuesday night; Wednesday will play the Arcade "5" Wednesday night and Tilton's "32" will engage the Ary's "5" Friday night. Box score:

CENTRAL TOSSERS RESUME SCHEDULE WITH GREENVILLE

After enjoying a short vacation, Central High School's basketball team resumed practice Monday in preparation for the first home game of the season with Greenville Saturday night at Central gym.

Central is in no way disheartened by three successive defeats away from home. The team this year is green and inexperienced but is showing a rapid tendency to improve and a majority of the remaining contests are expected by Coach Vic Kolb to result in victories.

The quietest has shown itself to be essentially a "team" this season. Opposing teams winning from Xenia in early season games have gotten away to a big advantage in the first half, with Central coming back in the final period to out-score opponents in each instance.

Coach Kolb is drilling in his charges the necessity of developing an "eye" for the basket. Basket shooting has been below expectations of which loss of several games is attributed.

Central will meet another stiff opponent in Greenville Saturday and the team hopes to win its first game before a Xenia crowd.

NORTH DAKOTA PLANS HUGE NEW STADIUM

MURDER INDICTMENT RETURNED BY GRAND JURY; NINE CASES IGNORED

Following examination of twelve witnesses and consideration of thirteen cases, January term of the grand jury presented four true bills and ignored nine cases Monday afternoon, Jury reported at 3:30 p. m.

Indictment for first degree murder was returned against Robert H. Turner, 35, colored, Wilmington Pike, confessed slayer of his brother-in-law, Ulysses Deatherage, colored. He previously pleaded guilty to first degree murder before J. E. Jones, justice of the peace.

Leroy Breakall, 19, and William Moore, 19, this city, were each indicted for burglary and larceny in connection with the robbery of the Babb hardware store, S. Detroit St., December 2, of merchandise valued at $117. Arrested less than four hours after the theft was reported, the pair admitted the robbery and all stolen goods were recovered.

Grand jury also returned an indictment for grand larceny against Howard Wilcox, who is alleged to have stolen $65 from Robert Franklin, September 10, 1925.

Final chapter was written in the alleged factional quarrel between Constable Sidney M. Cornelius, Bath Twp., and Marshal W. A. Schneider, Osborn, election day, when the grand jury failed to return indictments against the constable and his two sons, Otto and Grant, on charges of pointing firearms, assault and carrying concealed weapons, made by the marshal.

Sidney Cornelius was charged with assault, Otto Cornelius with pointing firearms, assault and carrying concealed weapons, and Grant Cornelius with carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms. Marshal Schneider recommended the cases be ignored, it is said.

An echo of the spirited campaign conducted by clients of Attorney F. L. Johnson several months ago to obtain enforcement of Sunday closing laws, following an anti-vic crusade launched by Prosecutor J. Carl Marshall in the county, was heard at the grand jury investigation.

Grand jury failed to return indictments against Tiffin Walker, Jamestown garage man, and C. R. Bales, employee of the Davis Oil Company, Xenia, for selling gasoline on Sunday.

Grand jury of the October term failed to consider the cases because of absence of witnesses.

No indictment was returned by the grand jury against John W. Tanner, this city, charged with issuing a check without funds in the bank.

Members of the grand jury filed a report of their formal visit of the County Jail in which it was stated they "wish to commend Sheriff Morris Sharp for the condition of the jail and to commend the County Commissioners for establishing the department for women prisoners and juveniles."

Those indicted by the grand jury will be arraigned in Common Pleas Court within three days.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT
Cleveland, O., Jan. 5.—(United Press)—Miss Mattie Jones relates a story that O. Henry might have written.

Miss Jones was crossing the public square here, her arms full of Christmas gifts, her purse slung over her arm. She felt a tug; her purse was gone. It contained 40 cents and a card with her name and address.

Shortly after Christmas, she received a mysterious package through the mails. It was her purloined purse. Inside were three folded dollar bills.

"I'd like to meet the man who was changed by the Christmas spirit from a sneak thief to a Santa Claus," she said.

OHIO PASTORS WILL MEET IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Jan. 5.—Whether evangelistic efforts of the churches should not be directed at church members as well as to the winning of converts is one question that will be raised at the Ohio Pastors' Convention here January 19 to 21.

An afternoon session of one of the sections or "commissions" of the convention will consider evangelism in all its phases, receiving the report of the committee on evangelism.

Other questions suggested by the committee for consideration are:

"What form of evangelistic appeal is most fruitful?"

"How can the churches of the community best co-operate in the work of evangelism?"

"What is the best method of securing prospects for the Christian life?"

BABY SMOTHERED TO DEATH WHILE IN BED

Dayton, O., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Lucille Cole, 304 S. Jefferson St., received a blow from Fate Monday, the second within two months, which robbed her of her 6-weeks-old son, William, Jr., the youngest of her two baby boys.

Mrs. Cole, whose husband, William Cole, 35, is serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, awoke Monday morning to find her baby dead by her side, having apparently been smothered to death under the bed clothing.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts
if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. —Adv.

ARRESTS REACH RECORD PEAK BUT FINES LOW CHIEF GRAHAM SHOWS

Compilation of the record of the Xenia Police Department during the year 1925 shows that although the number of arrests greatly exceeds the 1924 number, total fines and costs assessed fell far below the high mark set in the preceding year, annual report of Police Chief M. E. Graham shows.

A total of 467 arrests were made during the year in comparison with 359 during 1924 and 1923, of which nearly half of the arrests, 207, were made for violations of the speeding clause in the traffic ordinance. Only seventy-three arrests were made for speeding the preceding year.

Fines assessed during 1925 in Police Court amounted to $4,358 and costs totalled $841.80, while the 1924 record shows fines of $13,809 and costs of $629.20 of which $5,200 was uncollected.

Despite prohibition enforcement work, number of arrests for drunkenness increased over 1924, seventy-eight being recorded with fifty-three

MODISH MITZI PICKS NAME FOR HER DOLL; XENIANS RECEIVE MENTION

Mrs. F. W. Butler, Valley Creek, Claiborne County, Tenn., has been awarded the $50 prize offered for the best name suggested for the doll introduced in the Modish Mitzi feature appearing in this paper.

Mrs. Butler's suggestion, "Chuck O'Luck," was selected by the judges from more than 1,000,000 names submitted through the newspapers which print this feature from all over the United States. Announcement of the winner was made Tuesday by The George Matthew Adams Service, New York City, which syndicates the feature to these newspapers.

Modish Mitzi is the product of three New York girls whose combined initials are J. V. J. One of the girls visits New York shops daily and obtains descriptions of newest fashion modes. A second girl draws the pictures to accompany the feature and a third writes the script which tells the story.

When Mitzi acquired her new doll, readers all over the country were asked to submit name suggestions for the toy. Several hundred were submitted from readers of The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican and were forwarded to the syndicate in New York. These papers had nothing to do with the selection of the name, the judging being done at New York.

Judges however, selected a list of those deserving honorable mention from the names submitted through these papers. This list follows:

"Slats," Mrs. Rosa M. Smith, Cedarville; "Primps," Rosa M. DeWine, 436 N. Galloway St., Xenia; "Jazzette," Nelle G. McKay, 110 1-2 W. Second St., Xenia; "Moppy," K. M. Kelble, 127 W. Second St., Xenia; "Lanky Loll," Mrs. Ward Huston, 891 N. Galloway St., Xenia; "Flops," Jean Marshall, 648 N. King St., Xenia; "Flap-Peretta," A. Chrisman (no street address); "Pam," (for initials of Polly, Adelaide and Mitzi) Janice M. Owens, 40 W. Third St., Xenia.

Mitzi officially gives her doll its new name in an extra edition of the feature appearing in this paper.

MODISH MITZI—Such A Few Little Bundles

Mitzi has been shopping all day and she is completely tired out! "You don't seem to have much to show for a hard day's work," observes Dad—hopefully, perhaps. "Just wait till I show you," says Mitzi and while we wait notice her dress with its smart folde collar and embroidered trim-ming.

"And this bag!" continues Mitzi with an injured air. "If you think that this is a common bag you are quite wrong. This is the very newest Paris bag. It is an antelope bag lined with kidskin and it has a special monogram flap. The very latest shape and size."

year, according to Prof. John T. Marshman, head of the department of oratory at Ohio Wesleyan.

Three Wesleyan debaters accompanied by Prof. Marshman will make the trip to the Pacific Coast debating Whittier College, Jan. 29; Occidental College, January 30; Redlands College, Feb. 2 and the University of California, Feb. 4.

On the return trip they will stop at Des Moines, Ia., to debate Drake University, Feb. 9, Marshman said. Three different questions will be debated on the trip. Whittier University of Southern California, University of California and Drake, will be debated upon the subject:

"Resolved: That the present policy to extend governmental restriction of individual liberty should be condemned."

Ohio Wesleyan will take the affirmative of the subject:

"Resolved: That Democracy is a mistaken idea," against Occidental College and will argue the negative of the question. "Resolved: That the federal amendment regulating child labor should be adopted," against Redlands College, Marshman said.

"It took me hours to find this," Mitzi explains. It's a feather flower—quite the smartest sort of flower to wear on one's coat, or on a dress at the shoulder. It is made not of sprawly feathers, but of flat sleek feathers and has a tailored sort of air. Most new!

"This scarf, too," Mitzi continues, "is quite unusual for two reasons. It is painted in futurist designs and it is trimmed with fur that matches the fur of a new little hat I bought. If you think shopping is easy," but Dad has fled and flown away long since. He knows Mitzi!

CITY FINANCES ARE IN HEALTHY STATE SAYS CITY MANAGER

Healthy condition of the four funds in the city for which taxes are levied is indicated in the annual summary report for 1925 prepared by City Manager S. O. Hale.

Expenditures during the year increased slightly over receipts, the report indicates, but no overdrafts appear in any fund January 1, 1926, in contrast to a deficit in the safety fund at the close of the year 1924.

The report shows an auditor's balance January 1, 1925 of $15,125.94 and a balance January 1, 1926 of $12,094.19. Receipts during the past year amounted to $55,249.72 and expenditures totaled $58,281.47.

Receipts in the general fund during 1925 were $11,233.27 and disbursements were listed at $9,306.22, according to the report. A balance of $13,759.83 existed in the fund starting 1925 and the balance January 1, 1926, was $10,686.88. The report shows that an additional $5,000 was transferred from the general to the safety fund during the year making an actual disbursement of $14,306.22 in the general fund.

The health fund showed a balance of $540.65 in 1925 and $629.15 January 1, 1926. Receipts in this fund were $2,307.15 during the year in comparison with expenditures of $2,218.65.

The safety fund showed a balance of $73.51 January 1925, and a balance of $251.12, January 1, 1926, resulting from receipts of $21,925.10 and expenditures of $26,747.49 during 1925. The $5,000 transfer enabled this fund to record a small balance in 1926.

Receipts in the service fund amounted to $14,784.20 and expenditures were $15,009.11. The service fund showed a balance of $751.95 in 1925 and $527.04 January, 1926.

RETIRING MAYOR IS GIVEN AUTOMOBILE

New Lexington, O., Jan. 5.—Charles W. King, Republican, recently retired as mayor of New Lexington, has an automobile in his garage today, the gift of four high school girls, reprised by King a few days ago.

The girls were riding with nine others, in and on a "flivver" when cited by Marshall John Adams to appear before King.

King looked at the calendar, saw it was Friday, saw the thirteen girls, learned they were celebrating New Lexington's victory at football and let them off with a slight reprimand.

Before going out of office the automobile was given King, with an added gift of a box of candy.

URGES EDUCATION MEMBER IN CABINET

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Dr. Harry W. Rockwell, principal of the state normal school at Buffalo believes it will take 85 years to eradicate illiteracy from the United States at the present rate of progress in education.

The United States has an illiteracy of six per cent compared with one per cent in Germany and 1.8 per cent in Belgium.

Dr. Rockwell advocated the creation of the position of secretary of education in the President's cabinet.

There are twenty-two nations which have national officers corresponding to the position of secretary of education," he said. In this country there is a bureau of education tucked away under the Department of Interior. When the cause of education is pleaded it is heard only by committees of congress.
